

The Little Car
in the Big Race

John Paul Murray

One day the Little Car felt very small,
much smaller than everything else.

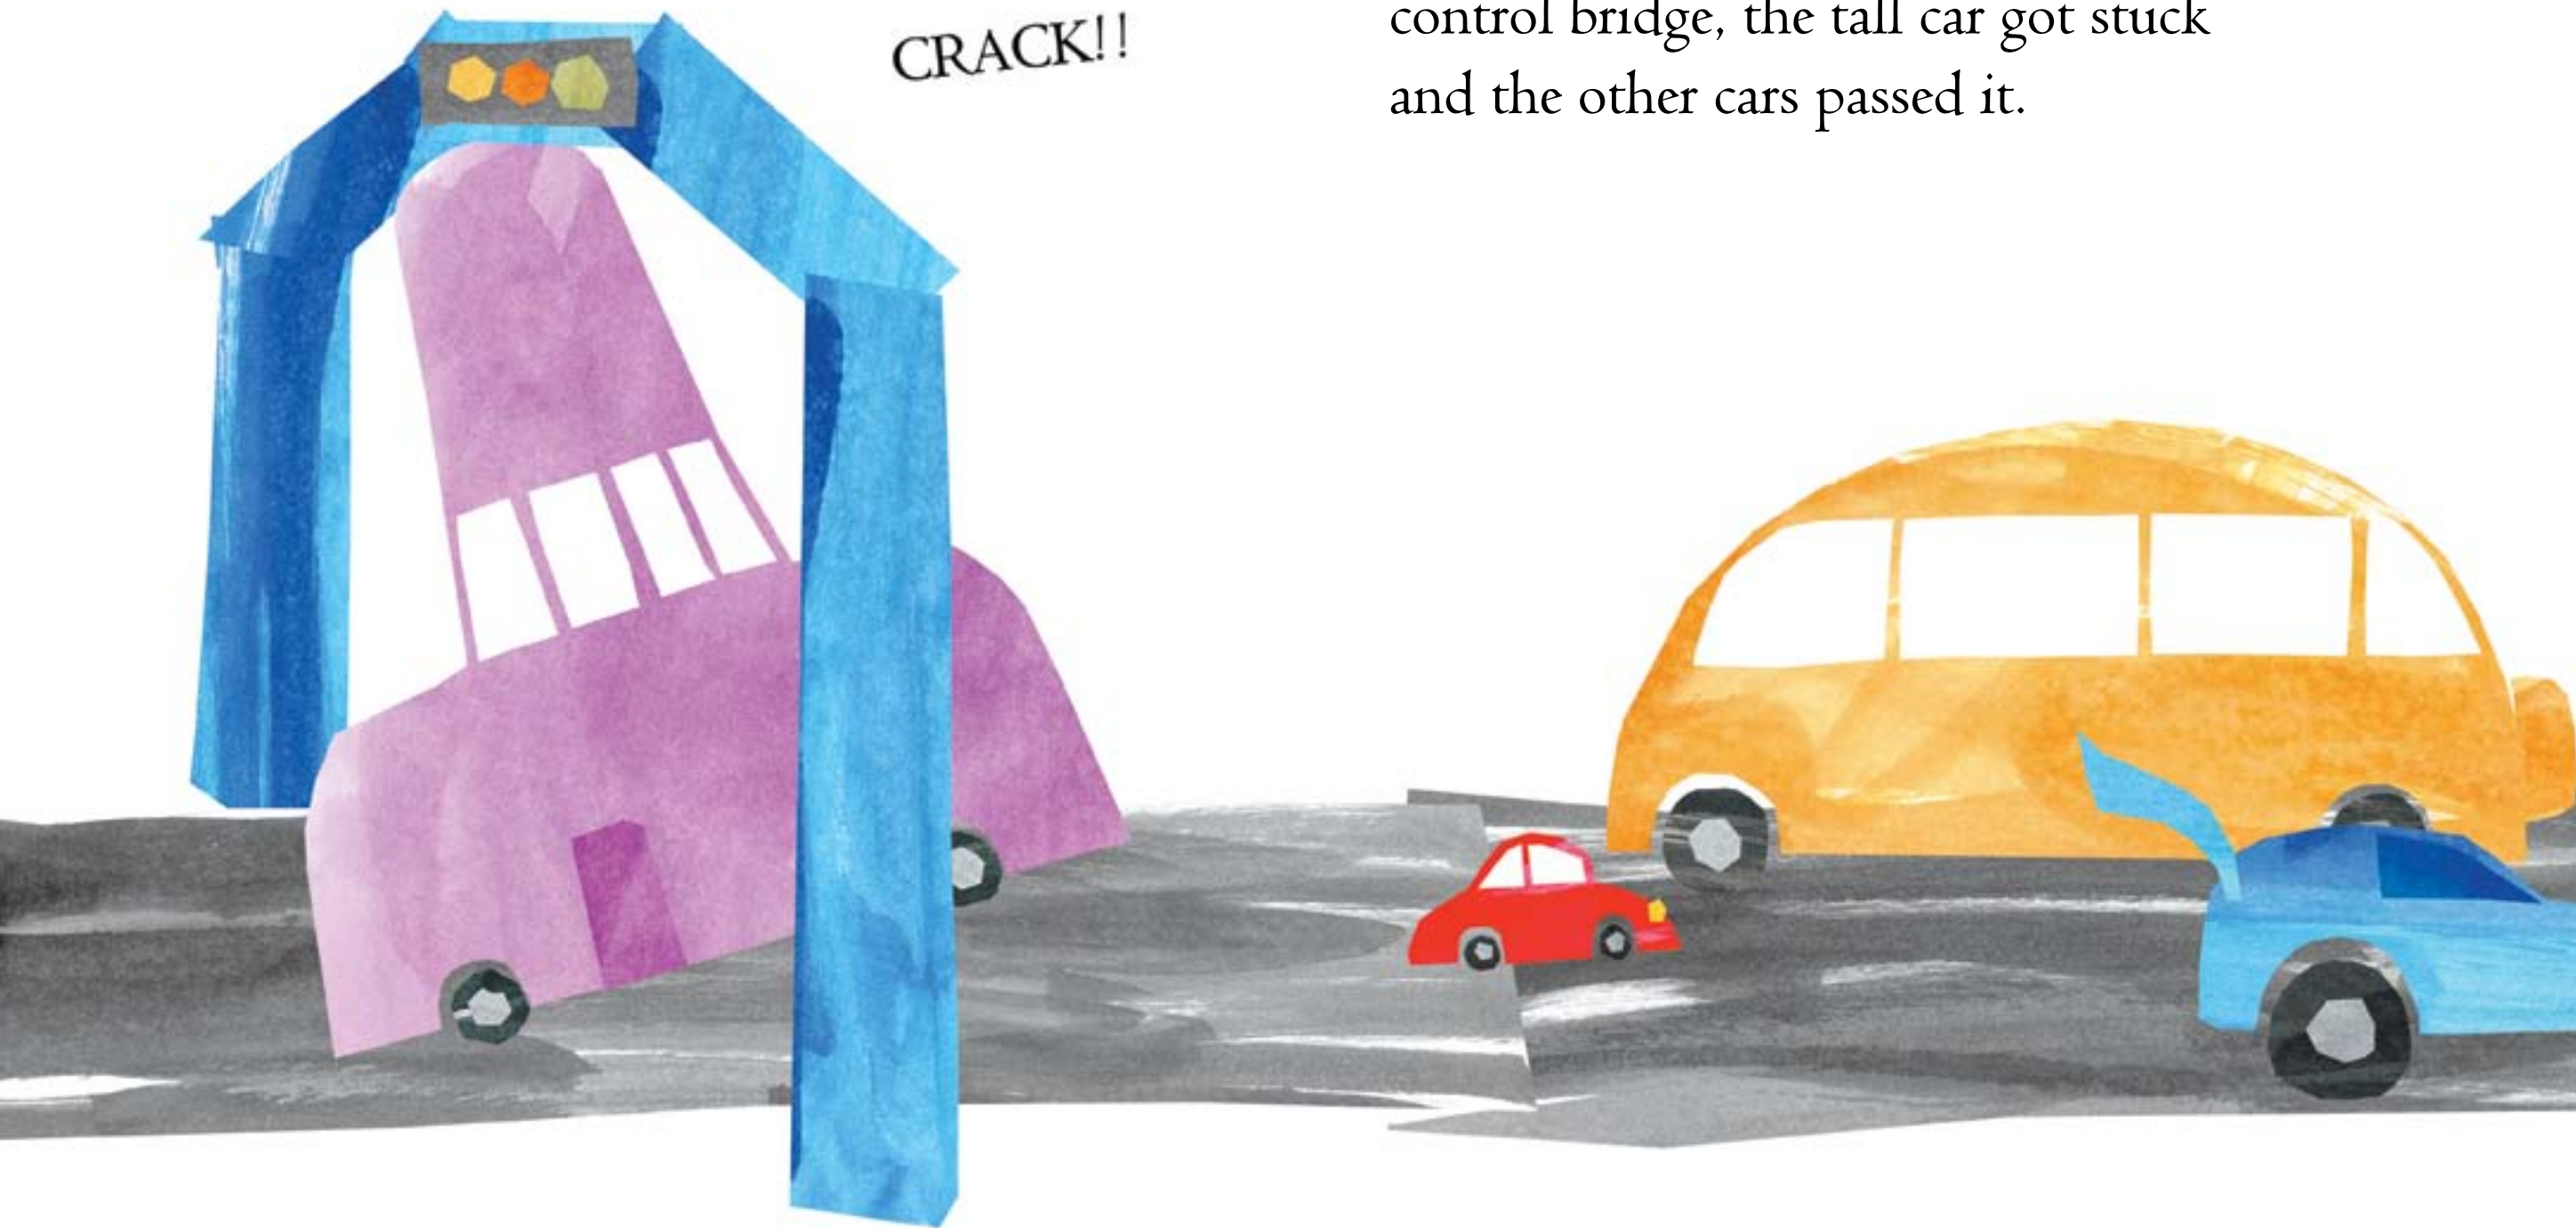

But the Little Car wanted to feel big,
so he decided to enter the Big Race.

BANG!!

WHACK!!

CRACK!!

When the cars went under the control bridge, the tall car got stuck and the other cars passed it.

The Little Car in the Big Race tells the story of a little car who felt really small, and so he enters a big race with lots of other cars to see if he can beat them.
